SmogEmergency Plan Outlined

As the result of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's request of three weeks ago that a smog emergency plan be developed, County Counsel Harold W. Kennedy today outlined preliminary plans which have been developed for emergency smog control, and requested the appointment of a panel of experts to assist in setting up standards to be used in determining the approach of an emergency.

"This plan will definitely prevent a catastrophe such as occurred in Denore, Pennsylvania in October 1948," Supervisor Hahn said, adding that it would also prevent misunderstandings such as occurred on last October 14, Black Thursday.

First Step
Under the first phase of Kennedy's proposed plan, which was first suggested by Supervisor Hahn, the possible approach of an emergency would call for all industrial plants operating under variances to cease operating and would require that all incinerator and open fire burning be stopped. The second alert phase would be started when smog concentration had reached a point where health would be endangered in three days if no change in the weather occurred.

Supervisors To Adopt Anti-Smog Regulations

Intention to adopt anti-smog rules which will further clamp down on the petroleum industry, and obviously offensive fumes from trucks and buses was signified by the county board of supervisors on motion of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn as Smog Chief Gordon P. Larson was directed to immediately recommend rules to enforce specific recommendations of the Beckman report which have not yet been enacted.

Supervisor Hahn pointed out that the Beckman report, prepared by a group of scientists and submitted to Governor Knight, contained specific anti-smog recommendations, many of which have not been put into effect by Larson.

Rules
Rules which Larson should propose to the board, Supervisor Hahn said, should set up definite time schedules to:
1. Prohibit all open skimming ponds, separators, sumps, and sewers associated with the production and refining of petroleum.
2. Prohibit gasoline transfers involving mobile carriers unless means are provided for preventing escape of vapors.
3. Require development of equipment to prevent spillage and gasoline losses at filling stations.
4. Curtail, reduce, or relocate air polluting industries, such as refineries.
5. Prohibit the emission of of air pollution such as chemical plants, open hearths, smelters, grey iron foundries, and oil refineries.

The third phase of the emergency plan, which would be put into effect just before actual danger, would require that all industries emitting any degree of air pollution must cease activities and that motor transport, such as private vehicles, commercial vehicles, trucks, and buses would be temporarily prevented from entering the danger area by the application of road blocks.
Kennedy pointed out that the entire emergency plan could not be put into operation until the necessary standards indicating the degree of danger had been established.
Kennedy also stated that the plan must be based upon scientific standards from which there will be no deviation.
Following Kennedy's report, the board named a committee of experts to set up the necessary standards for the emergency plan.

Jim Bardin Given Rank Of Corporal

Jimmie L. Bardin, whose wife lives at 4325 West 173rd St., Torrance, recently was promoted to corporal while serving with the 5th Infantry division in Germany.
Realistic field problems and maneuvers form part of an intensive training program conducted by the "Red Diamond" division in Southern Germany as part of the Seventh Army.
Corporal Bardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bardin, 110 South 5th St., Payson, Utah, is a member of the 11th Infantry Regiment's Service company. He entered the army in May 1953 and arrived overseas last January.
